"The Experience"

He Proposed!!!

Congratulations!!! You are now officially engaged and can start planning the wedding of your dreams!

“...wedding planning should never be a chore or feel like “work.” The planning duties ahead of you are not a series of tasks but a series of experiences you only get once; you should enjoy them to the fullest and share them with those you love and those who love you.”

*~ David Tutera

Your Loyal Partner for Every Occasion

This is absolutely true... Getting you to the alter with grace, elegance and panache is what we are here to do. We want the planning process to be as enjoyable as the celebration itself.

Regardless of budget, everyone is entitled to impeccable and unmatched service. It is important that we make every bride feel like they are our #1! Therefore, we take every measure to educate our clients so that they are better informed about the options that are most important to them. The approach we take to planning is done from various perspectives; the hostess as well as the guest.

Sharon Ringiér Events offers a “no obligation” FREE one hour consultation. This is a perfect way for us to learn more about your personal vision and desires for your wedding. We customize the consultation process to ensure that even the smallest detail is captured. The consultation is also an opportunity to help us get to know you and understand what is important to you as well as serve as a blueprint and invaluable tool...

~ helping us to focus on every detail with great execution.

Love to Love,

Our Packages

You're Engaged

What's Next? This 2 hour meeting is designed for the client who isn't sure where to begin or what to do. We discuss steps you should take to get the wedding planning process started. This is great for any bride even if you're a DIY bride!!!

Wedding Budget Analysis

We do a breakdown of what you would like for the wedding and then draw up a preliminary budget for you to follow.

Vendor Management

Imagine waiting to make your grand entrance and the thoughts of what's going on with the setup begins to pop into your mind. This package includes one 2-hour meeting, customized wedding timeline and reception management 3 hours prior to the event to make sure everything is setup and ready prior to the cocktail hour!

Wedding Rehearsal

Need help getting everyone down the aisle? This includes a one hour meeting to go over details. At the rehearsal, we assist with helping everyone to understand their roles (i.e., readings, processional, recessional, etc.)

Day of Coordination (DOC)

If you're a DIY Bride, you probably already have the planning covered and just need someone to take care of the details, allowing you to relax and let your family be a guest at your wedding. You will need someone who cares about your wedding as much as you do, who will bring order to that three ring binder you carry around everywhere. There are two options for the Day of Coordination. Both options include rehearsal the day before the wedding.

Going to the Chapel (DOC)

Up to 8 hours of Day of Coordination

Get Me to the Church on Time (DOC)

Unlimited Day of Coordination. This option is great for the bride who needs help with supervision of take-down and cleanup after the reception.

The Silver Wedding Package

This package is the bride and groom who need a little more assistance than the day of. This is great if you already have at least three wedding professionals contracted; one being the venue. We are here to assist with pulling together what you've already done and what's still on the to do list...

The Gold Wedding Package

This is for the bride and groom who needs full wedding coordination and planning. This package has all the benefits of The Silver Wedding Package plus creating and maintaining the budget, attending all vendor meetings, unlimited meetings with your wedding consultant, management of arrangements for your out of town guests, rehearsal and rehearsal dinner coordination and use of discounts from rental vendors.

The Platinum Wedding Package

Need I say more!!! This package has more bells and whistles than you can imagine! This is our most exclusive package of Full Event Design, Theme and Décor Concept Development for your wedding. This package has all the benefits of The Gold Wedding Package plus weekend management for your out-of-town guests, invitation upgrades, just to name a few.
